THE KING'S LITTLE BLACK BOOK

What's a ladies man without his little black book?

Armed only with this and his enviably large (ahem) moustache, it has been said that The King has spent "quality time" with Britain's finest ladies (we'll let him tell you about that one time with Judy Finnegan and Dame Helen Mirren).

As a giving kinda guy, The King's little black book has all you need to make your time in his pad as pleasurable as possible, too.

Behind his menu of Beer, Cheese and Disco Drinks you'll find space to use The King's book as you wish. Leave him a love letter, give your number to the hot chick you've been eyeing up. The possibilities really are endless.

This is your night, tonight. Everything's gonna be alright...

BEER

"Beer is for breakfast around here, drink or be gone."

- Doug Coughlin, 1988

This is for all the ladies men out there (because we love a generalisation about the drinking habits of men and women - cocktails for girls, beer for boys). We have a wide range of ever changing beers on our menu (hence the lack of inclusion on this menu). Please ask our staff or see our mirrors behind the bar for details.

It's on this page that we must bring your attention to Erzulie (Julie, for short) the Haitian Goddess of the One Night Stand. She now resides in the shrine at the corner of our bar. Say a prayer to this lady and heaven knows where the night will take you...
