

Burgers

We love beer. It's no secret. But we can't live on drink alone and so that's why we LOVE burgers and with our head chef Paul Turley at the helm our kitchen is knocking out some ridiculously awesome meaty goodness!

From the humble plain hand shaped Celtic Pride beef burger topped with homemade relish to the more adventurous Balti Lamb Curry burger topped with minted creme fraiche - everything we do is home-made and hearty. But herbivores don't fret! We also knock out some cracking meat-free alternatives too!

All of our burgers come with skin-on fries and homemade coleslaw to boot. (We're too good to you people...)

When you put two awesome things together they become more than the sum of their parts so we've let our ridiculously twisted chef off the chain to come up with a range of ever-revolving and evolving side orders!
