

WHITE LYAN presents

HEAPS PRIMAL BRO

The world around us is fraught with confusion and danger, things we want to eat, and things that want to eat us. Luckily we too have an arsenal of clever tricks that come quite naturally, helping guide us through uncharted (and charted) territory. They're very primal, and despite what we might think, they're still very active nowadays. Some are mega, some are stupid.

A good friend of ours says “Waste is a failure of the imagination”. We think he’s dead right. And if we don’t think that way, we’re likely to get dead soon enough. Closed Loop, zero waste, sustainable; around the globe people are talking and we’re glad to continue the cause. Thankfully, waste need not taste like trash, but quite the opposite.
