WILLKOMMEN IM BRAUHAUS

We hope you enjoy your visit to Glasgow's very own Munich-Style Bavarian Beer Hall. We've taken our inspiration from that great city of bier and, in particular, the magnificent Hofbräuhaus - the Greatest Beer Hall of them all!

We decided that we could not do our own Brauhäus justice without bringing all six Munich beers together (The Big 6).

Then we thought... why stop there? With such a wide variety of fantastic beers available in Germany, we had to sample the best of the rest and bring them all to Glasgow just for you!

We offer live Bavarian-style music, delicious hearty German cuisine as well an outstanding range of German beers all under one grand roof delivering a truly authentic Bavarian experience. Prost!

BIER STYLES

BRIGHT BIERS

Helles

Helles or Hell is a traditional German pale lager beer, produced chiefly in Southern Germany, particularly Munich. The German word hell can be translated as "bright", "light", or "pale". 4.5-6% ABV.

Available at Bavaria Brauhaus on draught
Hofbräu, Augustinerbräu, Spatenbräu, Paulaner, Hacker-Pschorr & Löwenbräu

Pilsners

A pale lager with a light body and a more prominent hop character. By far the most popular style, with around two thirds of the market. 4.5-5% ABV.

Available at Bavaria Brauhaus on draught
Warsteiner, Bitburger & Krombacher

Kölsch

A pale, light-bodied, top-fermented, beer which, when brewed in Germany, can only legally be brewed in the Cologne region. 4.5-5% ABV.

Available at Bavaria Brauhaus on draught
Früh Kölsch

WHEAT BIERS

Weizenbier

Weizenbier and Weißbier are the standard German names for wheat beer – "Weizen" is German for "wheat", and "weiß" is German for "white". This top fermented beer is naturally cloudy in colour, deliciously fruity and is an absolute favourite in the Alps.

Available at Bavaria Brauhaus on draught
Hofbräu Müncher Weiss & Paulaner Hefe Weissbier

DARK BIERS

Dunkel

A dark lager which comes in two main varieties: the sweetish, malty Munich style and the drier, hoppy Franconian style. 4.5-5% ABV

Available at Bavaria Brauhaus on draught
Hofbräu Dunkel & Paulaner Hefe-Weiss Dunkel

Altbier

A top-fermented, lagered beer. It is brewed only in Düsseldorf and in the Lower Rhine region. Its origins lie in Westphalia, and there are still a few Altbier breweries in this region. Tastes range from mildly bitter and hoppy to exceptionally bitter. About ten breweries in the Düsseldorf region brew Altbier at 5%-6.5% ABV.

Available at Bavaria Brauhaus in bottles
Schlosser Alt

UNFILTERED BIER

Kellerbier/Zwickelbier

Kellerbiers are unfiltered lagers which are conditioned in a similar manner to cask ales. Strength and colour will vary, though in the Franconia region where these cask conditioned lagers are still popular, the strength will tend to be 5% ABV or slightly higher, and the colour will tend to be a deep amber, but the defining characteristic is the cask conditioning. Kellerbier is German for "cellar beer".

Available at Bavaria Brauhaus on draught
Hacker Pschorr Kellerbier
Hofbräu Winter/Summer Zwickelbier

HOFBRÄU

Everybody knows of the 'Haus' but without "Hofbräu" the bier, there can be no Hofbräuhaus. Hofbräu is recognised for its royal connections to Duke Wilhelm the 5th who founded the Hofbräuhaus and brewery in 1589. The Hofbräu brand bears a royal crown and a gold glowing liquid that depicts its regal roots and 16th century beginnings. The bier has a crisp finish but not overdone and the spicy hop bite balances with a sweetness left lingering on the palate.

AUGUSTINERBRÄU

Augustiner is renowned for brewing Munich's best bier. As early as 1328, The Augustiner Brothers were brewing bier within the Augustinian monastery in Munich. With about 680 years of tradition, Augustinerbräu is the city's oldest brewery and has survived many extensions without ever forgetting its philosophy or risking the quality of its bier. Augustinerbräu is mostly sweet with faint hints of honey and a soft bitterness on the aftertaste. Its pale yellow complexion and full white head is smooth and quaffable.

PAULANER

A close second in our opinion as Munich's best bier – Paulaner is also a monastic brew, fermenting itself info existing in the Nuedeck monastery in 1629. As a result of an unsuccessful complaint filed against the Paulaner monks to ban sales of their home-brewed bier; February 24th,1634 is a special date as it marks the official founding date of the Paulaner brewery. The highly skilled Master brewer Franz Xavier Zacherl put Paulaner on the map and the popularity of Paulaner has always extended beyond the city limits of Munich.

LÖWENBRÄU

The Löwenbräu brand has strong connections to its place-of-origin roots which date back to as early as 1324. Brewed on 17 Löwenbruge Street and served in the Zur Löwen pub… logically the brand adopted the Löwenbräu name. As the historical king of the bier world Löwenbräu translates fittingly to "lions brew", which is illustrated through an iconic gold lion brand logo. Löwenbräu has just enough herbal hop bitterness and faint lemon sweetness to create a well-balanced and super easy drink.

SPATENBRÄU

The Spaten name stretches back to 1937 where records show the existence of a brewery owned by a Herr Spaeth who was busy producing his "Oberspathbräu". Under ownership of perhaps one of the most famous brewing family Munich has ever produced- Gabriel Sedlmayr and his sons Josef and Gabriel II, the name was later modified to Spaten around 1807. Like the Pschorr brothers, the Sedlmayr siblings parted and began brewing competitive biere, however World War I brought back the united Spaten brand. Spatenbräu is a premium, bottom fermented golden lager with a supremely well balanced hop flavour.

HACKER-PSCHORR

This consolidation of two Munich breweries is really a throwback since Hackerbräu and Pschorrbräu were actually one and the same in the early 1800s. Once considered the king of Munich's brewers, the Pschorr sons went their separate ways and divided the brewing business into Pschorr and Hacker wings. Both brothers prospered and so did their brands, becoming friendly rivals in the brewing world. However when tragedy struck, blood was thicker than… bier and the two breweries joined once again, hyphenating the brand to Hacker-Pschorr Bräu.

Prost

A Brief History of Bier

How It All Started

Beer is the world's oldest and most widely consumed alcoholic drink. Archeologists speculate that beer was instrumental in the formation of civilisations! The earliest evidence of beer dates back to more than 3000BC and it was in 1516 that the Bavarians introduced the 1st peice of food and drink legislation to the world - The Reinheitsgehbot (Beer Purity Law - see back page). More than 500 years later the Beer Purity law is still applied to brewing in Germany.

Beer has given our civilisation much to behold for the last 5000 years - inlcuding Oktoberfest, the biggest festival of any kind in the world! The origins of Oktoberfest first began on the 12th October 1810 with the marriage of Crown Prince Ludwig, who later became King Ludwig I. His marriage to Princess Therese von Sachsen-Hildburghausen was celebrated in Bavaria. On the 17th October, five days after their marriage, a large fest was held in front of the Sendlinger Tor, one of the gates leading to Munich.

Over 200 years later, Oktoberfest is now celebrated by over 6 million beer lovers annually. It is a very important part of Bavarian culture and is one for the bucket list of any serious beer drinker.
