DEVA VICTRIX | IPA
TRADITIONAL IPA | 5.5% | PINT | £3.90
PALE, BITTER, HOPPY

Although brewing in Britain was already established when the Romans arrived in 54BC, by 79AD when the Roman Fort 'Deva Victrix' was built, on what is now considered 'Chester', Roman soldiers had helped to develop brewing and were sustaining themselves on English ale. Since this was before the introduction of hops, we wanted to brew a beer that really showcased the hop presence, celebrating beer in the 21st century.

HAND OF ORVILLE
AMERICAN STYLE ALE
AMBER ALE | 5.0% | PINT | £4.05
RUBY, CARAMEL, HOPPY

If you asked anyone of a certain age to name a famous puppet, they would probably say Orville. A green duck, dressed in a nappy, who graced our screens in the 1980s, assisted greatly in bringing Chester-born ventriloquist Keith Harris to fame. At their peak not only did they host an award winning show but even reached number 4 in the charts, with 'Orville's song'.
