

WALKERS OF WHITEHALL

Welcome to Walkers of Whitehall

Built in the late 1600s, our beautiful building was once home to a bank. Today, the original vaults are home to 2 of our 3 floors that you can explore and book.

Craig's Court itself has a storied history. Built by Joseph Craig, who was a vestryman of the St Martin-in-the-Fields parish. According to Urban Legend, the single-track road - that is now the main entrance – helped create the Westminster Pavement Act. In the early 1760s, the then Speaker of the House of Commons' carriage got stuck in the court and he had to be pulled to rescue from the top of his carriage.

Next door is a BT telephone exchange, which once housed secret tunnels used to connect the government during World War Two. Unfortunately, these are now blocked off so no chance of a tour nowadays.

Welcome and enjoy your visit!
