Bottle 180

Kirk & Sweeney Gran Reserva Superior Rum is a potent Dominican rum named after a Prohibition-era schooner known for smuggling rum from the Caribbean to the United States. This high-proof rum is distinguished by its rich, complex flavour profile with notes of vanilla, oak, and dried fruits. Each bottle is numbered, underscoring its limited production and attention to quality.

It offers a mellower experience, making it suitable for both sipping and mixing. This version embodies the same rich heritage and quality as its stronger counterpart, presenting a balanced blend of caramel, toasted almonds, and spices. The rum is aged in American oak barrels, adding depth and a warm, woody finish.

Relicario Ron Dominicano Peated Finish Rum (70cl, 40%) is a distinctive Dominican rum that stands out for its unusual ageing process. Initially matured in ex-bourbon barrels, this rum undergoes an additional finishing phase in casks that previously held peated whisky. This unique method imparts a subtle, smoky character to the rum, blending harmoniously with its inherent notes of tropical fruit, vanilla, and spices. Each bottle captures a rare fusion of Caribbean rum craftsmanship with the intriguing influence of Scottish peat, offering a singular tasting experience for rum and whisky enthusiasts alike.
